

Disturbed South China Ports' Calling

To cope with the low productivity and congestion caused by COVID-19 restrictions at South China ports, ocean carriers have adjusted their port callings. Some omit Yantian and add Nansha or Shekou; some omit South China ports and add other Asia ports. Based on vessel schedule data updated by Jun 11, 2021, EZOCEAN summarized all omitted calls and added calls on Asia – North America & Europe trades from week 22 to week 26 ( 2021/5/23 ~ 2021/6/26 ). There are in total 135 omitted calls and 63 added calls.

Counting by alliance, Ocean alliance has the most changes with 55 omitted calls and 24 added calls, followed by non-consortium services with 25 omitted calls and 24 added calls. THE and 2M alliances have similar changes: THE 30 omitted calls and 9 added calls, 2M 25 omitted calls and 6 added calls.

Counting by trade, Asia-TPWC has the most changes with 61 omitted calls and 32 added calls, followed by Asia-NEU trade with 33 omitted calls and 16 added calls.

Asia-TPEC has 29 omitted calls and 15 added calls, and Asia-MED only has 12 omitted calls.

Counting by port,

- ✧ Yantian is affected the most with 128 omitted calls. The number of omitted calls peaked during week 24 (Jun 6~Jun 12) and is gradually declining in the following two weeks.
- ✧ Nansha, as a backup port for Yantian, has 32 added calls. But it also has two omitted calls together with Yantian on an Asia-MED service.
- ✧ Shekou has been omitted on two Asia-MED services and two Asia-TPWC services. It is also a backup port for Yantian and has been added with 12 calls.
- ✧ Hong Kong is relatively unaffected with two omitted calls and two added calls.
- ✧ Besides Nansha and Shekou, other ports such as Xiamen /Shanghai /Kaohsiung /Ningbo /Busan /Qingdao /Taipei are also alternatives to be added on vessels which omit Yantian.
